

Sundance Film Festival 2023

COVID Protocols

The health safety of our community is paramount. As we plan for the 2023 Sundance Film Festival, one of our most important considerations is how to safely bring together artists, audiences, volunteers, and employees from around the world.

We are actively in contact with the local health officials, working together utilizing recent information provided from top public health and safety organizations to mitigate the spread of COVID-19 for our attendees. We will review, expand, and adapt our health safety protocols as the Festival nears and as recommendations evolve to protect our audiences in accordance with government guidelines and legal allowances. Our health safety policy is subject to change, so please check back often as you prepare for attending in person in Utah.

Please follow this LINK to see the current measures and guidelines we have in place. These will be continually updated as more information becomes available.